Report of 6 November 1953: On 30 October 1953, as was reported previously, the Director of the Munich Center, T. SCHULTZ, arrived in Rome at 0745 hours.

After a series of meetings he left for Munich late the same night.

Ministry of Interior: Together withchass, SCHUITZ met with Dr.) ROTOS-DAMO (CAPUTO and BARLETTA were absent on business). HASS reported noth-PETOELLO ing of note in connection with this meeting.

b) Ministry of Defense: Together with HASS, SCHUITZ met with Colonel "ROSSI".

Atmosphere rather tense. SCHUITZ turned over a detailed report on the Pelish General Staff. According to HASS it was an assellent informative study on the subject. Colonel "ROSSI" clearly manifested his deep dissatisfaction for the way the Italo-German collaboration was proceeding in the intelligence sector in spite of the many assurances received from the Gormans at previous meetings in Ross. In fact, Colonel "ROSSI" observed the Germans had left unanswered all questions posed by SIFAR on security of communications, on radio communication between the directorates of the two Services, on the ciphers of communication, on the projected radio interception between Poland and Czechoslovakia. SCHOLL weakly attempted to justify himself by citing the fact that the Bun IS cannot yet operate on a legal plane and, therefore, does not have the funds. With regard to the radio interception of communications between Poland and Czechoalovakia, HASS, interrupting, proposed that a W/T operator of the SIFAR, technically qualified, be transferred to Western Gormany under the protection of the Bonn Service. "ROSSI" and SCHULT accepted the proposal. Colonel "ROSSI" invited SCHULTZ to submit an estimate of expenses which were to be met by the Germans and which SIFIR would reimburse. SCHULTZ was to bring the estimate with him on the occasion of his mext trip to Rome the following month. HASS, who was of the opinion that the acceptance by the Germans of reimbursement of expenses for work of common Italo-German interest constituted a lack of regard and dignity without precedent, hastened, in the presence of SCRUITZ, to make his amuses to Colonel "ROSSI", stating that he desired to be considered as having nothing to do with this deal. Colonel "ROSSI" told SCHUITZ that SIFAR could initiate a useful exchange of information only after collaboration on the part of the Germans is placed on a serious and secure plane. In reply SCHUITZ announced that before long a Ministry of Defense would be constituted in Western Germany and when this happens the German Schwicz would be in pesition to meet its obligations with honor. In answer to a direct question from "HOSSI" SCHUITZ explicitly stated that, in his opinion, the direction of the German Military Service would definitely remain in the hands of Colonel HEINZ, whose rival, GEHLEN, has little chance of replacing him, as BLANK completely endorses HEIRZ.

Besting with KOLIDI (Control Comment: Ernesto KOLIDI, of the National Independent Blos whose contacts with the German Service are known):

Lang meeting between HASS and KOLIDI. The Bonn Service is greatly interested in Albanian affairs. (Control Comment: Direct interest such as when the Kaiser's Germany placed the Prince of Weid on the Albanian throne, or reflected interest prompted by the BIS which has lost some of its position among Albanian refugees? In fact HASS is supposed to upset American penstration. In any case he would have to make anti-Italian moves). HASS received orders from SCHUITZ to begin to lay the bases for deep German activity in this sector. HASS is said to have received orders to penetrate Albanian collaborators of the American Services. It was in this spirit that the KOLIDI-SCHUITZ meeting was arranged.

3FISCHET, Meho falor to SCHULTZ' arrival had consulted, at HASS' request, with the principal leaders of KOLIDI's political group (VERLACI, MARKAJONI, etc.), teld SCHULTZ that both personally, and as representative of his group, he was disposed to agree to a close collaboration with the new German IS on the following basis:

- a) Economic treatment should be the same as that presently accorded by the American Service ($250. a month); and
- b) The German Government is to grant a form of political recognition to the group which he represents, recognition which has, to date, been denied by the American Service.
- 4. KOLIQI also pointed out that every one of his collaborators was to be compensated by a fixed monthly salary of 100,000 lire. He also stated that he was disposed to collaborate with the German Service in other sectors, particularly the Bulgarian, Croatian and Rumanian. With regard to relations of the Italian Government with that of Tirane, on explicit request of SCHULTZ, KOLIQI stated that he was aware, through documentation, that these relations have singularly improved in recent months as a reflection of the Italo-Jugoslav tension. The Rome Government, through the mediation of PCI Parliamentarians, allegedly brought to Tirana's attention its interest, in principle, of maintnining the status que in Albania and that, in any case, it would take no substantial steps against that Government even though it must, for tactical reasons, proceed in form in the wake of hostile initiatives of the American Service (Control Comment: Therefore, according to KOLIDI, or better still, according to HASS who attributes this information to MOLNUT, TERRACINI allegedly completed a mission (to Tirana) not for the PCI, but for the Italian Government!) KOLIQI commented that all this was absolutely contrary to the interests of anti-Communist Albanians who at the moment were looking with great favor upon German friendship and German resurgence because "whenever Germany has been sufficiently strong and influential in the Balkans, Albania, by reflection, has known periods of prosperity."

- 5. SCHULTZ is said to have given assurances of interest in the Albanian situation in general and in Albanian refugees in Italy in particular. Privately, SCHULTZ also gave assurances to HASS that all necessary financial means would be placed at his disposition to develop activity in the Albanian field.
 - On 2 November 1953, at 1130 hours, HASS was Report of 7 November 1953: presented by Ernesto KOLTOI to the previously reported Fathes CAGOV in the headquarters of the Franciscans in Rome, Via Guido Baccelli 56. This meeting was the first development in the SCHULTZ-KOLDI meetings. Father GAGOV took under consideration, with pleasure, collaboration with the Bonn Service against Communism in the Bulgarian field. Important detail: To activate this collaboration GAGOY pointed out the opportunity of recalling certain Bulgarians to Italy from Canada where they are presently living since in his opinion, they were not compromised in Bulgarian emigree circles in Italy (Control Comment: Attempts will be made to prevent this mince GAGOV is a British agent). The meeting was merely one of first contact. However, GAGOV offered HASS the collaboration of others, i. ...
 - a) A Rumanian colonel, whose name HASS does not know or does not wish to reveal, for the Rumanian sector;
 - b) A certain PABIAN for the Bulgarian sector (Control Comment: There are many persons named FABIAN; imrestigations in course to identify); and
 - A certain MEDIC, for the Croatian sector (Control Comment: This is KRILIC, Ante PAVELIC's henehman).
 - From how on HASS will have direct contacts with Father GMHW. The matter will be fallowed.
 - 8. Report of 24 Rovember 1953: According to information obtained from warrious confidential informants of Source, a Major, who acts as listen between HASS and the BLANK office, The Major mill cake him bendquerters at

Via Pier Inigi da Palestrina 47, address of the "INTERCOMERCIO", tèlephone 366-901. He is due in Rome on 2 December 1953. The Major was to pick up intelligence material prepared by HASS but the principal reason for his coming was said to be that of bringing HASS up-to-date on the situation within the branch of the German IS which, up to this time, had been under HEINZ who was torpedoed and substituted by Colonel GEHIEN.
The controversial position assumed by GEHIEN vis-a-vis HEINZ was notorious until about a month ago. GEHIEN was backed by the Americans, while HEINZ enjoyed the trust and support of BLANK and ADENAUJER.

- 9. The intelligence nets were different in composition: the majority of Americans with GERIEN, and the majority of Germans and ex-Nazis with HRIBZ, inspired by loyalty to the Republic of Bonn and German interests, the other by more distinct pre-American interests. However, GERIEM prevailed and changes were foreseen in personnel who have, to date, been under HEINZ (in Bonn along, 700 persons). HASS awaited the arrival of this Major who stated in a letter that the work would go on in spite of the new cituation. HASS feared that GERIEM's brother (Control Comment: the well known Hansfürlien, brother of General GERIEM, Secretary of the Order of Malta) who is in Rome, and who will logically be a trusted element of the new Chief, will remove him from his position in Italy. All was to be clarified on 2 December. The matter will be followed.
- 10. Report of 26 November 1953: On 22 November 1953, HASS received a litter dated 19 November from the Director of the Munich Center in which the latter announced his arrival in Rome on 2 December 1953 and requested HASS to invite "the Italian friends" to prepare the exchange material (Source saw the latter which discussed nothing else and made not the least reference to HKINZ's replacement).
- 11. HASS, on the other hand, learned of HEINZ's replacement from the last edition of the German magazine, Spiegel, which had published information of high interest and had even printed a photograph of HEINZ, and others of the Chief of The Sonn Political Security Services.
- 12. Detailed information on HEINZ's replacement were received from HASS on 22 November 1953 from his friend HUETTL. The principal points of the "HUETTL version" are the following:
 - a) HEINZ, chiring his stay in Eastern Germany when he was Mayor of the town of Sarow, was a member of the East Germany S ocialist Party and militated among the most fanatic extremists of the Farty who went so faf as to favor a fusion with the Communist Party;
 - b) HRINZ fled Restern Germany in 1946, not because of political incompetability with the Communist regime, but because certain particulars emerged regarding his responsibility in the post-WRI xilling of Rose LUXEMBURG, and he feared reprisals not so much from the Soviets we

U. S. GEFACIALS ONLS MADRICH LINSUMARY

from the old German Communist-Spartacists;

- c) HEINZ, once he became Chief of the Military Service in Bonn, banked everything on support which he had been getting from the Social Democratic Party of Bonn and from "democratic" Americans of the eld Boosevelt Administration, all of whom believed in the "New Deal" and were of a decidedly "pink" political hue;
- d) HETEZ, former Chief of the Bonn Military Service, betrayed his country by close collaboration with the Chiefs of UDBA and of the Dutch IS, activity which is amply documented;
- c) Contacts between HEINZ and members of the Soviet Service were alleged ly revealed;
- f) HEDE's presumable successor was (Reserve) General GEHLEN. Still, no successor had been officially named and, temporarily, the Military Service was continuing its activity under the direction of Otto JOHN, Chief of the Political Security Services and supporter of the campaign against HEINZ (Otto YOHN is an officer of the General Staff, formerly attached to CANARIS's service; after the failure of the well known attempt of 20 July 1944, he filed immediately to Lendon);
- g) HEIMZ's discussal took place, officially, in October (1953). Almost at exactly the same time as his dismissal, came the amountement of the strange death in Zurich of the Dutch agent who was the liaison between HEINZ and the Direct: "to of the Dutch Service with which HEINZ had arranged a collaboration during the war to maintain contact with London.
- 13. The "HOETTL version" becomes much clearer when reading what was published in the magazine, Spiegel. The variations to which Source synthetically referred were HOETTL's.
- 14. From all these events, HASS drew the following moral: it is necessary that he make urgent contact with the Soviet Service to sell today, to his advantage, that information which his chiefs most certainly will sell temography to the Soviets and to others.
- 15. CASS reported that he had had a brief meeting on these events with Massimo UFFREDUZZI after having received the letter from the Munich Center Director. UFFREDUZZI assured him of the stability of his position, declaring that SITAR would do everything possible to see to it that he kept the job of liaison between Bonn and Rome.
 - 16. HASS questioned UFFREDUZZI on AMEDDA's position within the Service. UFFREDUZZI is said to have stated that AMEDDA was an agent who was barely tolorated by SIFAR and was considered a hostile and dangerous individual. (Control Comment: HASS' request is in relation to the rash step (one of many) taken by ANEDDA to be recruited by the Israelis who turned down HASS' proposal in strong terms.(see below). At 1025 hours on 25 November, HASS went to the Soviet Commercial Representation (see below) and left at 1100 hours. He was accompanied by a confidential informant.)

17:00n 24 Hovember 1953, HASS received a communication from Line from Alois EDER, which was seen by Source. EDER acknowledged receipt of a political—military report on the Albanian situation. He stated that he had shown it to a certain PETER (not better identified), member of the Austrian police force in Line.

- 18. HASS sent EDER intelligence material on Albania received from KOLIQI to be offered to the highest bidder. This episode serves to demonstrate how HASS (but not only HASS) is engaged in indiscriminate trading of intelligence information which he succeeds in gathering in all fields.
- 19. Report of 27 November 1953: At 1020 hours on 25 November 1953, HASS went to the offices of the Soviet Commercial Representation. He was received without special formality by a young Soviet woman who asked him the purpose of his visit. HASS stated that he desired clarification en (trade) exchanges between Italy and Eastern Germany and asked to speak to an efficial. After about a ten-minute wait a Seviet efficial arrived who took him into a small room where he asked HASS to wait. After about ten minutes more he returned alone and the meeting began. HASS showed his German passport and said that the reason for his visit was not commercial in nature: he had come to the Commercial Representation because he thought that that office was less watched then the Embassy by the Italian police and by the Western imtelligence services.
- 20. The true reason for the meeting involved intelligence questions and, specifically, a proposal for collaboration in that field. The official interrupted HASS stating that he, personally, was qualified only in matters dealing with the export of Italian citrus to the USSR, but that in any case he was ready to listen and to refer the meeting to the competent office.
- 21. After having given a thumbnail sketch of nimself, his past and his present activity Wajor of the SD, then collaborator of the American IS, presently limited between Bonn and SIPAR RASS made the following offer to the Soviet Service:
 - a) All possible intelligence material which derived from his postion of lisison agent between Bonn and SIFAR (he offered immediate consignment, at the next meeting, of photocopies of Ronn-SIFAR correspondence);

- Peretration, through him, of the Albanian and Bulgarian anti-Communist refugee milieux;
- Penetration in Egypt, through his former SD friends resident on the spot (he mentioned a future trip to Cairo); and
- d) Reporting on the activity of the ex-King of Egypt, PAROUK.
- 22. HASS explicitly told the Soviet official that he was doing this only for money and that he had a trusted henchman whom he would use for contacts (Source). HASS turned over, as a sign of recognition, half of a 50-lire note of the type recently declared unusable (attached is photocopy of the half consigned to Source for the contacts).
- 23. The Soviet official followed HASS' exposition with growing interest, but without questioning him. At the end he asked HASS if he desired a military or political contact HASS replied "military".
- 24. The Soviet official said that he would try to make contact with the proper person and that he would pass on that person's epinion as soon as possible. In addition he took note of HASS' name and the address of his firm (Gontrol Comment: The "HMPORT-KYPORT", Via G. P. da Palestrina 47, which is entrusted to the well known Harald EMEKE.) HASS strongly requested the Soviet official not to attempt a contact through the firm, stating that his partner, EMEKE, is and must remain in the dark about this activity. The meeting ended at about 1100 hours.
- HASS' entrance and departure were observed as a result of Source's) timely signal.
- 26. Report of 28 November 1953: HASS was invited to participate at an international youth meeting in Cairo which was to take place during Jammary 1954. HASS was planning on resuming direct contacts with a group of former German officers of the intelligence service of the Reich which were still operating in that area and, in particular, with/Drametener, fnu, known to be one of the major German political and military sabotage technicians. HEISNER leaned his services as instructor and organizer of an Egyptian sabotage group which, in the event of necessity, was to operate in the area of the Suez Canal.
- 27. At the present time, having completed his specific task, HEISNER is engaged, through a commercial firm, in the furnishing of German material to the Egyptian Army. ERISNER has been living in Egypt for five years having transferred there, as did many others, with the assistance of HASS. Correspondence between HASS and BEISNER was recently resured on a purely commercial basis; BEISNER had even proposed that NaSI removier the possibility of transferring to Cairo to engage the commercial activity with him. In the post, BEISNER was on eventures relations with the nell-imove German group, "NAUMANH".

- 28. Rosaver, MASH sem in the trip to Cairo the possibility of exploiting it also from the intelligence point of view. Consequently MASS immediately made sontact with Captain AMENDA who is a well known collaborator of the Israeli Service, and proposed to him his (MASSI) inclusion in the Israeli Service activity which could be developed in Egypt. AMENDA agreed in principle.
- 29. Since, among other things, HASS noted the possibility of his entering into contact with former King FAROUK, through the latter's secretary, EL FAHTM, a former SD agent. AMEDDA pointed out the possibility of selling to FAROUK documents and information which would be obtained according to circumstances. HASS accepted. AMEDDA furnished RASS FAROUK's telephone number for an eventual meeting. It a meeting with FAROUK and with EL FAHIM, HASS hoped to place himself at the exercisein's disposition on the occasion of his forthcoming trip to Cairo, offering to act also as courier.
- 30. In a second, and successive meeting withANEDDA at which EMBKE was also present, HASS asked for regular recruitment into the Israeli Service.

 EMBKE made the same request. ANEDDA said he would check on it and reply later.
- 31. Which course of a further meeting between NASS and ANEDDA which took place on 12 November 1953, ANEDDA promised to introduce HASS to an Israeli efficer. The meeting, which had been set for the morning of 13 November, was postponed to the evening of the same day in Plazza del Popole. ANEDDA, however, arrived alone and stated that HASS' effer of collaboration had been turned down by the Israeli for the following reasons:
 - a) HASS: active collaboration in the anti-Semitic activity carried out in collaboration with PREZIOSI;
 - b) HASS is listed as a BIS agent; and
 - e) His participation in activity against the Jews was known; he is considered by them to be a war criminal. (Control Comment: It was also learned through Plan LADYSHIP that the Israelis had, in fact, disdainfully turned down HASS' effer of collaboration).
 - 32. In his offer of collaboration with the Israeli Service was implicit the sale of exchange material between SIPAR and the German Service.
- MIS 33. Report of 5 December 1953: On 2 December 1953, fmm SCHULTZ, Director of the Bonn Service Munich Center arrived in Rome. He was received by HASS. SCHULTZ asked HASS to arrange an immediate meeting with Colonel

"ROSSI". HASS tried to avoid the meeting by resorting to various expedients. However, when SCHULTZ arrived in Rome, HASS said that he had been in telephone contact with "ROSSI" who had replied that he did not have time for an immediate meeting. SCHULTZ was very disappointed and asked HASS to call "ROSSI" again to ask him for a contact even for only a few minutes as he had important verbal messages for him from the new Chief of the German Service, Colonel KIRSCH.

- 34. Searce was not able to learn if the meeting ever took place. However, SCHUITZ wrote "HCSSI" a letter which he consigned to HASS, along with the usual intelligence documents, in a folder sealed for SIFAR. HASS epened the folder to make a photographic copy. On the same day (2 December) SCHUITZ left for Munich completely dissatisfied due, also, to the lack of consistency of the material transmitted by SIFAR to date.
- 35. Commenting with HASS on the dismissal of HEINZ, SCHULTZ defended HEINZ and attributed his dismissal to the ill-feeling of the Chief of the Pelitical Services, Otto JOHN, and to maneuvers of the American "military clique" in Wiesbaden. However, he stated that the continuity of the work of those who belong to the Service was guaranteed. HEINZ was replaced by his assistant, Colonel of the O.K.W. KIRSCH.
- 36. General GEMIEN, who aspired to succession, was not successful in taking over since he, too, was in trouble. In fact, one of the principal employees of his organization was revealed to be a Soviet agent who, taking advantage of the General's trust in him for a long period of time photographed the most secret documents of the GEMIEN net in the East and, as a consequence, about sixty men in the net fell into the hands of the Seviet security forces.
- 37. SCHULTZ announced that before too long BLANK would be named Secretary of State and that from that mement the Bonn Military Service would initiate the truly operative cycle of the Service. Not so imminent was the constitution of the Ministry of Defense. The nomination of BLANK as Secretary of State would represent, therefore, a transitory phase which would culminate in a reorganization of the German Army. American pelitical and military circles were reported to have imposed this arrest action in relation with the "relaxed" political phase brought about by recent initiatives from Moscow. The nomination of SLANK as Secretary of State was diegodly made possible, at the request of Bonn, as a countermeasure to the appearance of Von PAULUS on the political scene.
- 38. SCHUITZ was also said to have told HASS that interest in HASS activity in the Albanian sector had deteriorated. On the other hand, interest has increased in the Bulgarian, Rumanian and Jugoslav sectors. No interest, for the present, in the Italian sector.

U. S. OFFICIALS CHLT SECRETTI DEPOSIATION

- 39. SCHULTZ had, in Rome, a series of meetings, details of which are given below, according to HASS' statements:
 - a) Meeting with CAPUTO: CAPUTO asked for the initiation of an active exchange of information with Colonel KIRSCH. He pointed out to SCHULTZ that a situation was developing in Italy which worried Italian political authorities. In fact, American political and military services were creating in Italy a powerful fifth column constituted, basically, of American citizens, apparently civilian, who settled in Italy under the strangest pretexts and created nets. apparently anti-Communist, but in reality aimed at taking control of vital nerve centers of the State under the protext of a presumed absence of the powers of the State in the event of a crisis which might even be provoked by them for the purpose of bringing about a true American military occupation regime. For this reason there was strong preeccupation on the part of the Italian Government as well as the need for closely watching this preparatory activity. CAPUTO said that he was of the opinion that an analogous situation was taking place in Nestern Germany and, consequently, he invited SCHULTZ to exchange respective information on the activity of the American Services and on the names of those belonging to them and collaborating with them. This strange conversation visibly frightaned SCHUIMZ who however was not convinced and ably slipped out of the discussion by stating that such activity, even though most interesting, did not fall into the present possibilities of the German In vain did CAPUTO try to obtain his agreement, appealing to the need for safeguarding the independence of their respective countries. SCHULTZ was reported to have been very much shocked and astonished by this meeting. (Source Comment: Source wished to point cout the fact that for many months HASS had been dealing exclusively with CAPOTO and it appeared that his relations with BAHLETTI were not too "warm". This might have some bearing in evaluating his statements. Separately, CAPUTO, who said he had just returned from Salaburg, invited HASS to a mosting later.

BIS INPUT NOb) Secting with Father GAGOV: Meeting of four: SCHULTZ, HASS, Father GAGOV and a former Bulgarian Colonel who, in 1943, was chief of Balgarian security services. HASS did not remember the name of this Colonel but it developed that he and SCHULTZ had mutual friends as SCHULTZ, during the war, was said to have worked intensely in the Bulgarian sector for the CRW (sic). Father GAGOV began by presenting himself as being qualified in the field of military information as representative of the Bulgarian emigree group which he leads, and presented the Colonel as a person qualified in the political intelligence field. The GAGCY group desired to collaborate with the Back Service and to propose the initiation of the collaboration as follows:

Every 20 days a group of Bulgarian Jews who had been expelled from their country arrived in Naples enroute to Palestine. They are lodged temporarily by the Italian authorities in a hotal in Maples where members of SIFAR and the American services gather to interrogate them. CAGOV proposed to make it possible for his Colonel to go periodically to Naples to interrogate these refugees with the authorization of the Italian Interior Ministry (Control Comment: It was already known that Father GAGOV, a British agent, who had never agreed to collab-erate with the CE sector of SIFAR, is protected by the Ministry of the Interior), placing at Bonn's disposition a copy of the interrogation. GAGOV stated that he felt it was necessary to seek the support of Italian political authorities rather than the military and to obtain for the Celonel a "protection" document which was to be used only in the event of need. SCHULTZ approved the suggestion and asked for a financial plan of the operation. HASS was to go to CAPUTO for necessary support as soon as Bonn sent its approval.

- 40. The following resulted in the wake of SCHULTZ's visit to Rome:
- 41. On the morning of 3 December 1953, HASS, in accordance with CAPUTO's previous request, went to the Interior Ministry for a talk. CAPUTO postponed the talk to 4 December as he was busy with effice matters. HASS, therefore, was able to discuss only marginal questions, i.e.:
- 42. Recently HASS was introduced by EMBKE, in Rome, to a certain (Captain MINIMIE) who was a member of an unspecified police mobile unit in Bologna. Together with MORKE, HASS again met with REMEINI in Bologna en HASS' return from a business trip to Como. RIGHINI, further developing a concept already brought out in Rome, stated to HASS that on the initiative of Italian industrialists of Turin and Milan an autonomous anti-Communist intelligence service was being constituted which prosposed, in addition to the fight against Communism, to defend the independence of European countries against American invasion which was becoming more unbearable each day. Therefore, RICHINI requested HAZZ and BARKE's collaboration for the constitution of a unit in Rome and announced his proposed visit to Rome to reach a concrete agreement on a financial basis as well.

43. HASS, who found many points of agreenwait between RICHINI's proposal and that at CAPPTO to SCHULTZ, questioned CAPPTO in this connection for startification and advice. CAPPTO werely recommended the institution as being excellent and patriotic, stating that the head of the organization is the well known Edgardo Million sho, there arabs ego, entrollished the directorate of the service in Milan creating the first intelligence and to

- 14. HASS' opinion of the entire question was clearcut: BIS: (Control Comment: There can be no doubt, if one remembers VALLETTA's ties with the British.

 One of the Air organs might know scmething about it.)
- 45. It was Source's impression, for various reasons, that EMRKE's relations with REMINI were of a specific intelligence nature.
